

Coffee

Allen sitting at the kitchen desk thinking real hard. Enter Rachel.

RACHEL
Hey! What are you doing?

ALLEN
I'm writing my next skit for the show.

He thinks he has an idea but it escaped him as fast as it came. Undaunted, he tries to think harder. Rachel just looks at him. Way too much silence.

RACHEL
Oh, yah.

ALLEN
Yah, Dave said we need it for this weeks show. I got to have it by Wed.

RACHEL
We gotta do something!

ALLEN
I don't know. I just can't think.

After a few more attempts of trying to think of something, he blurts out...

ALLEN (CONT'D)
Coffee! Coffee! I need coffee.

RACHEL
OK you need coffee. I'll make you some coffee.

The coffee maker and coffee are just off camera.

PULL BACK TO REVEAL COFFEE

Rachel opens the coffee bag with reckless abandon. Coffee grounds everywhere. She clangs the coffee maker parts together stuffs the filter in the filter holder, drenches the entire area with water from a garden bucket... In short, she goes through the procedure of making coffee but sped up 10 times.

SLOW ZOOM IN TO NOT SEE RACHEL

From just off camera, Rachel hands Allen a perfect cup of coffee. Allen immediately begins to work. He is absorbed in his great writing, unable to speak.

RACHEL (CONT'D)

Allen, did you get some ideas? The coffee is good. Right?

Allen completely ignores her. He stops only to take another sip of coffee without breaking his stride.

ZOOM OUT

Rachel turns and walks into the camera and starts talking to the audience. Over the shoulder you still see Allen successful working a way.

RACHEL (CONT'D)

As you can see the jobbj coffee was just what Allen needed to feel warm and fuzzy and to revive his creative efforts. But what he doesn't know is that he is drinking dfgedfvaefa coffee. It provides
